Police Ban Crowds; Twp. Officer Hurt

Police clamped down on future crowd gatherings in Dogwood Hollow after a Bristol Township officer was struck with a rock last night and two persons arrested as Levittown's anti-Negro demonstrations entered a second week.

A rock struck Sgt. Thomas Stewart above the ear shortly before 9:30 p.m. The missile was thrown from the center of a milling crowd of 500 camped across Haines Road on the Farmbrook section side of the street. Seconds after Sgt. Stewart fell to the ground, a dozen state and township police chased the crowd through the woods and in between the homes deep into Farmbrook. Robert Lawrence, Bristol Township police officer and a plainclothes township policeman mulling with the crowd, picked up a 15-year-old Levittown boy.

Denies Throwing Rock

The plainclothes policeman who picked the boy from the crowd said the rock came from the "general direction" where the boy was standing and he was seized as a suspect.

The boy denied throwing the rock and said, "I saw the rock thrown but I didn't throw it. I don't know who did."

The youth was released.

No More Crowds

Following the rock-throwing incident, Major William Ruch, State police, said absolutely no more crowds will be permitted in the area.

"I want to emphasize," he said "that anyone found loitering in the area will be subject to arrest. A police officer has been injured. This has gone far enough." Major Ruch would not elaborate on how he intended to keep the crowds away from the Dogwood Hollow section.

Sgt. Stewart was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital and transferred later to Rolling Hill Hospital in Cheltenham where he was being held for observation. Ernest T. Sheen, administrator of Rolling Hill Hospital said today, "Sgt. Stewart spent a restful night and his condition this morning is satisfactory."

Sgt. Stewart suffered a lacerated ear and a cerebral concussion. Reparatative surgery on his ear to prevent an unsightly ear from the results of the laceration was performed by Dr. Glenn W. Bricker, Levittown.

Several minutes after Sgt. Stewart was hit with the rock, an open convertible drove past Haines Road.

Police said they heard remarks from the car and forcibly pulled William Duff, 18, of 264 York. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Prepare Beach For Bristol Township

Apparatus from eight fire companies worked nine hours this week to lower the level of one of the Langenfelder Lakes by three feet. Township employees are now working on the lake area to prepare it for a municipal beach.

Initial Work On Township Beach Is Started At Lake

Preliminary work for the installation of a 750-foot long beach at Langenfelder Lake is underway by Bristol Township employees.

Before the summer is over, the Bristol Township Recreation Board hopes to have much of the work done on its $20,000 plans for turning the lake into a township recreation center.

The park site is located along the Bristol-Oxford Valley Road, at Magnolia Road.

Elbert Kohli, township recreation commissioner, explains that the 47 acre Langenfelder tract has two lakes. One will be converted into a swimming area and the other is to be stocked with fish. The first step in creating the new park facilities was taken this week when apparatus from eight area fire companies pumped an estimated 1,500,000 gallons of water out of the smaller lake into a group of nearby finger lakes that flow into Silver Lake.

The fire companies lowered the level of the lake three feet. Since then, three township pumps have shaved another three feet off the depth of the lake.

Township employees, using rented equipment, are now filling in the area with dirt in preparation for the installation of the 750-foot long, 200-foot wide bathing beach. From the water line out, the beach will slope three feet for a distance of 110 feet. There will be floats stationed at the 100-foot mark and from there to a diving tower, the depth of the lake will range from seven to fourteen feet. During the winter months, the township plans to erect a snow fence between the two lakes. A split rain fence is planned near the smaller lake and the proposed parking area.

Lifeguards will be provided as a safety measure.

The township's park and recreation board was set up early this year to operate on a budget of $25,000 a year. However, $7,500 of that amount is committed for a joint fund with the county for improvements to Silver Lake.

Bristol Township Fire Companies who pumped water Sunday included: Third District, Crofton, Newportville, Edgely and Levittown No. 2. They were assisted by the Levittown No. 1 and Bristol Borough No. 1 and 2, from outside the township.

Ike Sees Red Grab In Syria

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today he is tremendously disappointed in the record to date of this session of Congress.

At his weekly news conference, Eisenhower also took a cautious stand on the Communist seizure of power in Syria. He said the situation is not an instance at present that justifies any action under the Eisenhower Middle East Doctrine.

He charged that Russia is trying to take over Syria.

On domestic matters, Eisenhower indicated a willingness to accept a compromise version of the jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill somewhere between the Senate version, which he still opposes, and his original position. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

Pa. Turnpike Joins Federal Road System

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government today brought 2,100 miles of toll superhighways in 15 states into the federal interstate highway system.

Congress now must decide whether the federal government should buy the roads and make them toll-free or let the states maintain them and continue to collect tolls. The federal government is barred from maintaining toll highways.

The action by the Bureau of Public Roads was made on recommendations of the various state highway commissions. It brought parts of such famous superhighways as the Pennsylvania Turnpike and the New York Thruway into the 41,000-mile defense-linked federal highway system.

There were some notable omissions. The West Virginia Turnpike was left out altogether. So was the northeast extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and most of the New Jersey Turnpike.

The bureau said these famous toll roads were omitted because they "did not lie among general location lines of the interstate system."

New Jersey's Garden State Parkway was omitted because it bars trucks.

The bureau must tell Congress by next January how much it would cost to buy the roads. Congress then will decide whether to purchase them.

The bureau said it could give no preliminary estimate on the total cost.

Federal Highway Administrator Bertram D. Tallamy said the toll roads brought into the system represent about 5 per cent of the coast-to-coast network that will link 90 per cent of all cities of 50,000 or more population.

The government pays 90 per cent of the cost of the system. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Youths Reach Soviet Border In China Trip

OTPOR, Sino-Soviet Border (UP)—Forty-one American students en route to Peiping from the Moscow Youth Festival boarded a Chinese train here today for the remainder of the trip to the Chinese Communist capital.

All of the students were well and in good spirits as they prepared to enter Chinese territory. The train arrives in Peiping two days later, passing the Ancient Wall of Ghenghis Khan at this border of northern Manchuria.

En route the train bearing the students halted briefly in Kirov, Sverdlovsk, Novosibirsk and other Siberian towns where they were greeted at the platform by hundreds of Russian youngsters offering flowers and gifts.

2 Teamster Locals Paid $150,000

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee said today two of James R. Hoffa's Teamster Union locals paid $150,000 for the country estate of Capone mobster Paul (the Waiter) Ricca.

Hoffa, accused of being an ally of the New York underworld, told the committee he never met the Chicago hoodlum and could find no trace of his name in the deal for the mansion.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said one of the union checks for the property bore the endorsement of Paul de Lucia. He said this is another name for Ricca.

"I say we did not purchase from Paul Ricca," Hoffa snapped.

The fast-talking Hoffa, probably next president of the Teamsters Union and presently its Midwest boss, said the estate near Chicago was bought by the union as a school in which to teach welfare and pension funds. Hoffa said the estate was bought by Local 337 and his home Local 299, in Detroit, and turned over to the union's Joint Council 43.

He said after the purchase was first publicized, he had the abstract company check the records and could not find Ricca's name. He said he did not know Ricca and De Lucia were the same—or why someone named De Lucia got the union's check. He said the property was purchased from a trust company.

This was Hoffa's second day on the witness stand. The committee went over his personal finances Tuesday and brought out that he had borrowed about $120,000 from his Local 299 in Detroit, other Teamster officials and businessmen having dealings with the local. Most of the loans were obtained without paying interest, signing notes or putting up collateral. He still owes "around about $70,000" of this, he said.

In 15 days of public hearings the committee built up a painstakingly detailed charge that Hoffa, Midwest leader of the union, had Teamster headquarters set up seven phony, membership locals in the Teamsters Union which voted for his candidate, John O'Rourke, for president of potential Joint Council 16 last year in New York. O'Rourke won the election, lost a court challenge, but took over unopposed this year.

Tanker Sinks Off Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR (UP)—The explosion ravaged tanker World Splendor lost a dramatic race against time today and sank within sight of safety off Gibraltar.

Nine officers who remained on the smoking hulk and a British Admiralty tug had battled to get the 25,000-ton ship into Gibraltar before seas flooded its forward hull.

But flooding through cracks opened by the two explosions and flash fire which hit the ship yesterday poured in before the tug Confident could cover the last 20 to 30 miles to the British naval base.

THIS IS FOR YOUR BENEFIT

If you have not already started to be helpful in the Good Will Community Survey—get Monday's paper, look up the two page announcement, and begin to do your share.

The only way merchants can know what you like and do not like about local shopping conditions is for you to tell them.

Don't put it off. Don't sit by and expect someone else to do everything for you. Do your bit right now and you will benefit for a long time to come.

Look up the two-page announcement in Monday's paper and start being helpful.

Every week is a completely separate Survey with a different question about shopping conditions each week.

Good Evening!

S.O. battling for GG

No matter what the weather report says if it doesn't contain rain it's considered disappointing.

Remember when it came down all day? For two days? How long has it been?

After 32 hours and 19 miles that Lancaster, Pa. balloonist lands with only a cut on his chin. There's the first spaceman. We're waiting for him to tell whether the world is really round.

Everything normal in world news. There is a Mid-East crisis. The Arabs are making charges against Britain, foreign aid is being debated and Germany is still concerned over being divided.

Don't want to ruin your vacation kids, but school is nearing. Soon your room assignments will be appearing in this newspaper.

Hoffa borrowed quite a bit of money without signing notes or giving security. There's a man to be helping you when you're buying a car.

Always feel good Wednesday morning, although a bit saddle-sore.

Tuesday night is spent riding the range with Cheyenne, Wyatt Earp and Tom Jefford.

Off to Coney Island today go 70 of our carrier boys and we'd give the proverbial right arm to accompany them. Aahhh for a frankfurter at Nathans and some rides at Steeplechase.

Maybe we ought to honor the guy who invented Venetian blinds. If it weren't for him, it'd be curtains for all of us.

"Now if there is anything you want," the president told his new office manager, "you just let me know. And I'll tell you how to do without it."

Watch your driving.

Actress Gail Russell was found unconscious last night on the bathroom floor of her home, police said. ## Middletown Police Break Up Juvenile Munitions Makers

Middletown Township police nabbed a "ring" of juvenile munitions makers, who had made and exploded a "Molotov cocktail" in Levittown, yesterday.

The "ring" consisted of four teenage boys who started with "firecracker guns" that fired stones and other missiles before advancing to the tank buster used so effectively by Hungarian freedom fighters against the Russians.

Police got their first clue to the "ring" when Chief Howard C. Shook heard explosions as he was driving along Frosty Hollow Road in Levittown, Monday.

Called Patrolman

The chief said he thought the noise was made by a shotgun or .22 caliber weapon. He summoned Patrolman Karl Kritzberger. The two followed the noise of the explosions into Red Rose Gate section. They found two boys, 12 and 14, sitting on a curb along Red Rose Drive, where they had been exploding firecrackers. The boys had a large supply.

They told the officers they had purchased the fireworks from a 16-year-old boy who lived in the section. The chief and Kritzberger found him at his home. Police also uncovered a large supply of firecrackers which the youth said were given to him by his aunt in New York.

Police said the supply, counting what had been taken from the two younger boys, amounted to about 400 firecrackers, ranging from one to four inches.

The 16-year-old boy had a "gun" fashioned from galvanized pipe.

The youth said it took him about an hour to make. He got (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3) any person parking near one of these signs will be prosecuted.

At about 7 p.m. the crowd began gathering slowly, standing opposite Haines Road and glaring at policemen.

Women and men as well as youngsters and very small children made up the crowd.

With falling darkness the crowd grew larger. They yelled at the police "Gestapo" and "this is Russia." "Women beaters" and "clubbers."

As a car would attempt to drive into the section, police stopped to check licenses. This would release yells from the crowd.

By 9 p.m. the crowd had swelled to over 400 persons.

Police watched the crowds. The crowds stood firm, a solid wall across Haines Road, stretching at least 50 yards long and about five persons deep.

About a half hour later, several persons attempted to come across Haines Road. They were pushed back by State and local police.

A voice was heard from the crowd calling for a reporter. "We want to give our side of the story." The reporters, gathered in a small knot on the Dogwood section of Haines Road, all stood firm.

Seconds later, the rock flew from the crowd. It caught Sgt. Stewart in the right ear and he fell motionless to the ground.

As a reporter moved up to help him, police ran for the crowd. The protestors scattered in every direction between homes in the Farmbrook section.

Township and State police carried riot sticks but were not able to use them as the crowd fled.

Police pursued the chase to keep the throng away from the area. Officers Aaron Kelton and Charles Shaw, Township police, chased a crowd of juveniles deep into the Farmbrook section. The youngsters hollered at the officers, then fled. They moved back several hundred feet, then yelled at the police again.

From Out-Of-Town

No arrests were made as a result of the Farmbrook chase but several cars were stopped. Licenses were checked on three cars and the drivers came from Philadelphia, Camden and Upper Darby.

They were told to stay away from the area. "If I spot you here again tomorrow, you've had it," one officer told the intruders.

Small knots of people formed in front of the Hope Lutheran Church near Haines Road and Mill Creek Parkway. They were constantly being scattered.

Shortly before midnight the crowd had completely diminished and all passersby were kept moving steadily past the section.

The Bucks County Rescue Squad was summoned by police to throw spotlights on the area across Haines Road.

No Meeting Tonight

The meeting called by the Levittown Betterment Committee, organized in protest to the Myers family, for tonight has been cancelled, it was announced by Mr. Newell, chairman.

Mr. Newell said the group has been unable to get a meeting place. It had made tentative arrangements to use the Edgley Fire house but the fire company turned down the request on advice of its attorney.

Newell said the committee decided last night to try to work through the Levittown Civic Association. He said, "the LCA is a legally constituted organization and is supposed to represent the people of Levittown."

He added that the Betterment Committee decided to try to get as many members to join the LCA and work in conjunction with that group.

He added that he might call another meeting of the Betterment Committee to "tell my followers what I intend to do." Before he calls such a meeting, Newell said, he would check with the authorities to see if such a meeting would be permitted.

The chairman denounced the stoning of the police officer which took place in the mob scene last night. "I am disgusted with what happened up there last night. It was unjustified and uncalled for. I have always advocated complete cooperation with police."

Newsman were repeatedly barred from asking any questions of the Negro family during the day. A white spokesman from inside the home said all press personnel would "get a chance to ask questions of the Myers at 6:30 p.m."

He said that way everyone would get the same information at the same time and save confusion.

A prepared statement was issued at 4:30 p.m., saying the family would hold no more interviews "until they have something further to say."

The statement, hand printed and apparently drawn up by a third person, was signed by Daisy and William E. Myers, Jr. The statement referred to the couple as "they."

The release said: "Mr. and Mrs. Myers wish to express their deep appreciation of the fair and sympathetic understanding demonstrated by the press, radio, and TV.

"They hope that all of these will appreciate their feeling that the sooner they can return to normal privacy the better for all concerned. They feel that neither their new neighbors nor the police may appreciate their doing anything that may contribute to a continuance of a circus atmosphere on Deepgreen Lane.

"Accordingly, they beg to be excused from further interviews. If they feel they have anything more to say, which at present they don't, they will do it through the Citizens Committee for Levittown at the William Penn Center."

The daylight hours yesterday saw about the same number of cars cruise by, slow down at the house and drive on. White friends of the Myers entered and left the house at intervals. Some returned with food packages.

The home was serviced with oil for the heater and was visited by a representative from the Bucks County YMCA.

Friends inside the home said they've received numerous telephone calls since the family moved in. The phone is taken off the hook at night, the spokesman said.

Mrs. Donald Walker, of 345 North Park Drive, whose husband was arrested Monday night, today denied reports printed in other papers that she was pregnant and had a miscarriage as a result of the incident. "I'm not even pregnant," she said. She added, however, "I'm a nervous wreck."

Debate Tonight

The Levittown Kiwanis Club has arranged a debate between Rev. Ray L. Harwick, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Levittown, and James Newell, Jr., chairman of the Levittown Betterment Committee, for 8 p.m. today at Pennsylvan Inn. The debate will be a part of the regular meeting of the Kiwanians.

The public is not invited to the meeting, club officials have announced.

The Catholic Interracial Council of Philadelphia, in a statement signed by Anna M. McGarry, executive vice president, urged "Catholic families to exercise clear judgment and to promote through prayer and through example a spirit of true Christian neighborliness in their community. The only possible solution for grievous social disorders arising from racial differences lies in the application of Christ's teachings. Catholics have a special responsibility to live by these teachings."

The statement said "to deny an individual any basic right because of his race or color is to deny both the teachings of the church and the basic tenets of our American democratic government."

Reports that a second Negro family had moved into the Thornhill section of Levittown today were denied by the real estate agency which handled the sale.

The spokesman said the same family had lived in the same section of the community about two years ago and then moved to Philadelphia.

Twp. To Convene Recessed Meeting

Bristol Township Board of Commissioners will reconvene their recessed meeting at 8 p.m. today in the municipal building at 85 Holly Drive, Levittown, it was announced by Henry J. Rolles, Jr. township manager.

The meeting started last Wednesday but was recessed after three hours when the commissioners were unable to accomplish any business. Two groups from Levittown jammed the meeting and asked the commissioners to take some action in the controversy.

Fire Chief Requests Area Shows Caution In Drought Loss Of 400 From Jobs

Bucks County Fire Marshal Leonard D. Roberts at Bristol recently urged firemen to plead with the citizens of the county to be careful about starting fires during the drought.

Roberts said many Bucks volunteer fire companies are being called out more often this summer than since the firemen's association was organized in 1913.

"My records show," warned Roberts, "fire companies are called out because someone carelessly or needlessly burned rubbish, threw a cigarette away, or was careless about starting a fire."

Hard Time

"When many farmers' wells are dry, even artesian, creeks dried up and no water anywhere, volunteer firemen will be absolutely helpless to cope with a large grass or field fire," Roberts said.

Roberts also said volunteer firemen are being criticized by their employers for taking off several times a day to fight a grass fire.

Speaking at a meeting of the Bucks County Fire Chiefs' Association at Bristol Consolidated Fire House, Roberts reminded the firemen when he said they may have "blue lights" on their cars if they meet certain legal specifications.

Lights Are Legal

Roberts said recent State legislation make blue lights of the spot-light type legal if located properly.

"The blue light on a fireman's car will indicate to the public and firemen that he is a volunteer fire fighter and permit him to drive as near as he can to the disaster," Roberts said.

Vice President Paul W. Myers, Perkasie, presided. Fifteen companies, representing about 40 firemen, attended. William Sutton said a meeting will be held Aug. 26 at Newportville Fire House to plan a fire school.

Plans for Fire Prevention Week were discussed. It will be Oct. 6 to 12.

It was reported too many "base" radio stations keep on the air when an individual company gets a fire alarm. Nearby base stations should leave the air if they are not asked to help.

The next meeting is Sept. 16, at Warminster Fire House.

Bristol-Morrisville area showed a net loss of 400 workers in non-agricultural employment during the May-June period, Francis L. Mathews, manager of the Bristol branch, Pennsylvania State Employment Service, said today.

Of Lower Bucks County's 75 employers, total employment was reduced to 19,800, by the decline, Mr. Mathews said.

"Actually," he said, "the situation is somewhat better than it appears, because three-fourths of the decrease is due to a labor dispute."

"Strikes in paper products dealt manufacturing employment a severe blow," Mr. Mathews said. "Without it the reduction in this sector would have been negligible indeed, since gains and losses among the 14 major industries were about divided evenly," he said.

Primary metals took the second largest set-back as orders slowed, the employment agent said. Other curtailments included food products, apparel, rubber and electrical machinery. Most of them were "seasonal" in nature, Mr. Mathews said.

Transportation equipment and fabricated metals were major industries to rise during the three-month period, he said.

Red Grab Seen By Ike

The compromise proposal will be announced later today or Thursday by House Republican leaders.

The President also told reporters he earnestly hopes that congressional leaders of both parties will get together and finish action on the civil rights bill at this session of Congress rather than letting it go into an election year. He did not think it would be proper to have the emotions of the people torn over such an issue next year during congressional and state elections.

Other highlights of Eisenhower's meeting with reporters:

—He expressed again his hope that the Senate would restore every cent of the reduced foreign aid appropriation to the level of the original authorization bill, then make the best possible deal out of a House-Senate conference.

—He said the 41 American students who have gone to Red China from the youth meeting in Moscow were badly advised and are doing a disservice to their country.

—He said he sees no usefulness in contemplating a special session of Congress on civil rights. He reiterated that the world situation would have to dictate the necessity of a special session on foreign aid should Congress end up voting what he regards as insufficient funds.

—Eisenhower said he plans to remain in Washington as long as Congress is in session, but that if the House and Senate wind up their affairs in about the next 10 days or so and if Mrs. Eisenhower's medical condition permits, he still hopes to take a holiday at Newport, R.I. He added, however, that his vacation plans become more indefinite each day.

Eisenhower was asked to appraise the congressional treatment of the administration program this year and to evaluate the job done by Congress. The President said that he had looked over the long list of recommendations last January and was tremendously disappointed that to date so many bills had not been acted on and in some cases not even accorded committee hearings.

He declined to divide the blame between the Democrats and Republicans. He said those who voted against his program which he believed was best for the welfare of the nation had to share the blame.

the idea from a gun, friends in New York had given him.

Chief Shook said the youth told him he and the others had fired about 150 firecrackers, many in the gun, Monday afternoon.

The "Molotov Cocktail" was an outgrowth of the "gun." A fourth youth, also 14 years old, became intrigued with the gun. The "cocktail" was exploded at Red Rose Drive and Roving Road.

The boys who had the firecrackers told police of the "cocktail" and they picked up the youth who made it.

Work Nears On Street Extension

The legal machinery has been completed for beginning the actual construction of the extension of Washington Street.

Morrisville Borough Council has approved a motion to instruct Harry Lee to begin a survey on the street for the purpose of beginning construction.

Borough council condemned the street several weeks ago and this will be the final step before actual work of the new extension.

A meeting has been scheduled with Paul Sullivan, owner of property along the new street, to attempt to arrange a purchase price for his condemned property and save court procedure.

Sullivan has asked borough council for $20,000 for his property. The discussion session is set for Aug. 30.

Residents Get Sewer Notices

Morrisville residents have received 90-day notices to connect into the borough sewer line or be charged rental just the same.

Charles Mohollen, business manager of the Morrisville Municipal Authority, said the action conforms to a borough ordinance which provides that all residents must tie in with the sewer line.

Total connections into the line amounted to 1,700 of the 2,200 homes in the borough.

Residents will be charged sewer rental not later than the 90-day after expiration of notice time.

Persons requesting any extension on the time involved for joining into the line must file such a request with the borough secretary.

So far only one person has filed such a request. The request has not been acted upon by the Morrisville Borough Council.

Brown Frosh Party Slated

The Brown University Club of Trenton will hold its annual, sub-freshman party on Sept. 5, according to an announcement by Willard C. Parker, chairman.

The event is held each year, prior to the start of the college term, to enable area students entering Brown to become acquainted and learn more about the University.

This year the club's affair will include for the first time area girls entering Pembroke College, women's division of Brown.

Several Lower Bucks area undergraduates at Brown will aid the alumni as upper-class representatives at the party. Keith Eveland of Newtown R.D., a George School graduate who will be entering his sophomore year, and Alfred M. Chapman of Washington Crossing, a Lawrenceville alumnus, will serve in this group.

No Takers In Sight For Morrisville Job

There is a job vacancy in Morrisville and nobody seems willing to fill it.

The borough council is attempting to find a man for the position of civil defense director of the borough.

Resignation
Edwin Price, present director, has sent a letter of resignation to the borough council. Mr. Price said business reasons make it necessary for him to resign his borough position.

Mr. Price works at the J. Allen

Hooper Funeral Home in Morrisville.

Council has contacted many persons in the borough but none has consented to take the position.

Asked To Stay
Bob Steward, Morrisville borough secretary, said Mr. Price will be asked to stay in his position until a successor can be found.

Anyone interested in the position may receive further information at the secretary's office.

Confidential Trial Switches To TV

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Defense counsel in the Confidential Magazine libel trial indicated they would switch today from mischief in movieland to alleged hi-jinks on a popular television quiz show.

Attorney Arthur J. Crowley was expected to attempt to prove the magazine reported the truth in an article, "What happened 24 hours after Hal March asked the $64,000 question nobody could answer?"

Crowley hinted John Odom, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of Georgia, would be his next witness.

Odom blasted the $64,000 show in the September issue of Confidential. He charged in the article that the program as a "gyp, silly, cuckoo and impossible."

The change of pace was indicated after an attractive 33-year-old adopted daughter of a movie director testified she took an active part in an alleged nude swimming pool party at the home of actor John Carroll.

Gloria Wellman, daughter of Director William Wellman, testified Tuesday that she supplied Confidential Magazine with the material for the story, "It was John Carroll's party—but no John."

The story was one of a dozen lurid articles on which the state based its criminal libel charge.

Chairmen Are Appointed

Committee chairmen of the Capitol View Fire Company, Auxiliary of Morrisville have been appointed, Jean Reitzle, president of the auxiliary, announced today.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Michael Sayko, and Mrs. Edward Roberts, sunshine; Mrs. Raymond Tohm, servicemen; Mrs. William Ruddick, club; Mrs. Helen Faber, grocery basket; Mrs. Roland Gorton and Mrs. Alfred Blinn, 20-year-members dinner; Mrs. Robert Patterson, Mrs. Charles Elcock, and Mrs. Henry Roberts, parade; Mrs. Lawrence Newell Sr., Valentine party and Mrs. Marvin Allison, New York trip.

The first fall meeting of the auxiliary will be Sept. 3.

Armed Forces To Get Asiatic Flu Vaccine

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U.S. Armed forces will begin receiving Asiatic flu vaccine in about a month, officials said today.

A Defense spokesman said first priority will go to men overseas, their families and Defense Department civilian employees overseas.

The department has for several years given a flu shot to military men. This year, officials said, a so-called monovalent shot, to combat solely the Asiatic flu strain, will be given first. Later the usual polyvalent shot will be given.

Morrisville Council Approves 4 Policemen

Four men were approved by the Morrisville Borough Council as part time policemen this week.

The four, who completed civil service qualifications, will be sworn in shortly and will be available for work when needed.

John Sawyer, chairman of the borough's police committee, said the four new part time officers are Raymond Sanchez, Joseph McClister, Walter Rose, and Louis DeMario.

County Court Waives Tax On Old Morrisville Site

The Bucks County Court has approved the waiver of an old tax lien on the Baker property at 4 Lenora Ave., Morrisville, and approved sale to William Woodward.

Nicholas Misan, president of the borough council, said the court release waives taxes on the property dating back more than 20 years. Woodward, who lives at 80 Althea Ave. Morrisville, said demolition work on the property will start in about ten days.

It has been indicated that after the property is leveled a new residential building will be constructed.

The home was condemned several years ago by the fire officials of the borough and was considered an eyesore.

Since the tax lien by borough, school and county officials, had precedence, the building could not be demolished and resold without a written release.

The county, the school board and the borough signed releases and this had to be approved by the courts.

Borough officials said the demolition of the old structure and the building of a new home would place the residence back on the borough tax rolls as a result of this action.

E. Dilwyn Darlington Temporary Solicitor

E. Dilwyn Darlington, former Morrisville borough solicitor, will act as borough solicitor during the vacation of David Clarke, solicitor.

Both attorneys are members of the law firm of Cadwallader, Darlington and Clarke.

Teachers Workshops Slated Next Month

Workshops for Pennsbury School teachers will be Sept. 3 and Sept. 4. The Pennsbury Schools will open Thursday, Sept. 5.

Parents of registered children will receive information by mail concerning class and teacher assignments, bus schedules, and other pertinent matters.

Parents of children attending the Pennsbury Schools for the first time will register their youngsters this month, school officials said.
